5 1/2% LONG TIME LOANS 5 1/2% TO FARMERS

FARMERS CAN BORROW MONEY AT FIVE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT INTEREST ON FIVE TO FORTY YEARS TIME. PRINCIPAL GETS LESS EVERY YEAR.

If you borrow $1,000 you would pay $65.00 per annum which covers principal and interest. If the loan runs five years it is one seventh paid up. You can pay all or any part after the fifth year stopping all interest from date of payment, or you can let it run as long as you want to without any renewal. No commissions to pay. A small charge is made for examining title and land. This is easily understood. So easy that thousands of farmers are borrowing from the Federal Land Bank.

CANDLER COUNTY FARMERS HAVE SAVED OVER $15,000 IN ONE YEAR BY BORROWING THROUGH THIS BANK.

AUTHORIZED TO LOAN IN CANDLER, EMANUEL, AND BULLOCH COUNTIES.

NOT LIABLE FOR NEIGHBORS DEBT
Federal Land Banks are operated under practically the same rules as that of any other bank—and a borrower is no more liable for his neighbors' loans by this system than he is for loans made by his local bank in which he has stock.

MORE READY CASH THAN MAN CAN USE

A friend of ours was walking diagonally down the streets Sunday, and it was the day after the night before. He was still feeling good, and wanted to talk about prosperity which abounded throughout the land.

"Did you ever know of such prosperity before in all your life?" he demanded by way of opening the conversation. And then he went on without waiting for a reply. "It's the best time I ever saw. I work only nine hours a day and every Saturday night roll in home with $26 in cash for my wife. Nothing to spend it for, so I just give it all to her. Home all out and no place to go, so I don't need the money. Just turn my pay over to her and live happy."

"But say," and a cloud came over his face. "I needed a shave and hair cut last night, and I asked for her for a dollar. Do you think she'd give it to me? Well, she wouldn't, nary cent. Had to take my old razor out to the grindstone and sharpen it and shave myself. She's the sturdiest woman in the world. Live with her! I won't do it another day. I'm going to quit her. Next time I get my pay I'm going to put it every cent in railroad fare and ride as far as I will carry me. I'm going to Cuba—No-plus-ultra—anywhere to get away from all my difficulties. Leave Statesboro! Sure I am! There's nothing to spend your money for here."

And we pondered over the sort of prosperity which gave a man more wages than he could spend, while he was forced to sharpen his razor at the grindstone and let his appetite grow dull.

SEVEN YEAR OLD STEWARTS STILL RUNNING

The life of high-grade Stewarts has not yet been determined. The seven-year-old Stewarts are giving excellent satisfaction today—will probably last for years to come.

There are hundreds of firms who first bought one Stewart, then two, then three and so on, until today they have large fleets.

And these high-grade Stewart trucks cost $200.00 to $200,000 less than the average price of other trucks.

The tire mileage of Stewarts is really wonderful—gasoline and oil consumption is low. High-grade Stewarts are almost strangers to the repair shop.

The success of thousands of high-grade Stewarts in use throughout the world in almost every line of business, has made the Stewart factory one of the world's leaders in truck building. You don't experiment when you buy a Stewart.

THE STANDING TOGETHER OF THE FARMERS, MERCHANTS, BANKERS, AND MANUFACTURERS IS ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL IF WE ARE TO WIN THE FIGHT WITH THE BOLL WEEVIL.

From the results of our Company's experience operating Oil Mills from North Carolina to Texas, we have found that when the boll weevil has a section our mills in that particular section remain idle most of the year, and many cease operation altogether. The Oil Mills' and Farmers' interest are identical. If our mills are idle it means that the farmers have made a failure with their cotton crop.

WE DO NOT ADVISE ANYONE TO QUIT COTTON, BUT WE DO ADVISE PUTTING AT LEAST HALF OF HIS MONEY CROP TO PEANUTS. PEANUTS HAVE FOLLOWED THE BOLL WEEVIL ALL THE WAY FROM TEXAS TO GEORGIA, EVERYONE KNOWS THEIR SUBSTANTIAL MONEY VALUE.

On account of the high prices for tobacco and no boll weevil to contend with, the Virginia and North Carolina planters of peanuts are giving them up for cotton and tobacco. This decrease in acreage in North Carolina and Virginia indicates that it is going to be almost impossible to have anything above a normal production, which would indicate that the price will remain high.

WE HAVE HAD A VERY MILD WINTER AND WE ARE GETTING REPORTS NOW THAT THE BOLL WEEVIL HAS NEVER GONE INTO WINTER QUARTERS AND IS RAISING IN FROST-BITTEN BOLLS RIGHT IN THE FIELD, SO IT LOOKS AS IF HE WOULD BE READY FOR THE FIRST SQUARES. THIS IS OUR STRONG APPEAL TO YOU TO MAKE ROOM FOR A LARGER PEANUT ACREAGE. REMEMBER, TO DISCREDIT THE BOLL WEEVIL'S ABILITY TO DESTROY YOUR COTTON CROP IS DANGEROUS.

We are pioneers in the peanut business in this section. We buy peanuts and ship them to our Georgia plants in any quantity all the way from Virginia to Mississippi, therefore, you can be assured of a market for your peanuts at all times.

WE HAVE SELECTED AND SET ASIDE CHOICEST PEANUTS FOR PLANTING PURPOSES. WE HAVE THEM ON SALE AT OUR PLANT, AND, FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF THE TRADE, WE PROPOSE PUTTING THEM ON SALE THROUGHOUT THE SECTION. WRITE US FOR PRICES AND ANY INFORMATION WE CAN GIVE YOU IN REGARD TO PLANTING, CULTIVATION, AND HARVESTING.

We strongly advise the use of fertilizer in raising peanuts. We want our customers and the public generally to call on us for any information we can give. Our offices are open to every farmer. Come and let us advise with you for a large peanut crop. We have studied the business; you are welcome to any help we can give you.

WASTED EMOTION

It is pathetic to witness the flood of wasted tears poured out by the Hoover advocates in Georgia over the decision of the state Democratic committee to exclude his name from the ticket in the coming primary.

The pathetic phase of the matter is that those who weep, beg all the wrong cause. The committee is elected by the Democrats of Georgia to regulate the party's plans for the selection of party nominees. The Democratic committee has no authority to let down the bars for men from other parties or from no party whatsoever to enter.

Mr. Hoover denies he is a Democrat, and requests he be not so considered. That reasonably closes the matter so far as Georgia Democrats are concerned. If he is an independent, and that is the most that could be claimed for him, he is entitled to no place in the party's plans. Those who desire his election should be satisfied to support him on the grounds he says he stands upon—independence.

Georgia Democrats cannot make him a Democrat by calling him such, any more than California Republicans can make a Republican of him by placing their stamp on him. He is the only man who has a right to name his status. He refuses to call himself a Democrat, and it stands to reason that he is not one.

If those who bewail the action of the Democratic committee in refusing to enter his name upon the party ticket, will spend half their energy in an effort to get Mr. Hoover lined up right, the energy will be better spent. A word from him will settle the matter. Many words from his supporters mean nothing. The ravings are pure babbling of men who ought to know better.

The attack upon Mr. Palmer for permitting his name to be entered as a candidate in Georgia, charging him with being the recipient of stolen goods, as is implied by one of the Hoover supporters in the daily papers, is a false accusation. The Democratic committee of Georgia is not attempting to steal anything from Mr. Hoover nor to deliver anything to Mr. Palmer. The Democratic voters of Georgia are about to express a preference for the presidential nomination. The vote of Georgians is not to be expressed at a primary election to be held next month. The question has been asked Mr. Hoover direct if he considers himself within the realm of fiction, and if he desires the nomination at the hands of Georgia Democrats. He answers in the negative. Mr. Palmer says he desires it. He is a Democrat and is entitled to be considered in the Democratic primary. It is no attempt to steal what another man declines.

READING THE WANT ADS.

From time to time this newspaper has stressed the fact that advertising pays. Concrete instances have been pointed out showing how results are sure and satisfactory. Many instances have been given in which results were obtained even before the advertising was produced this week, wherein it was clearly demonstrated that it also pays to read the advertisements. Last week a farmer living in an adjoining county gave us a brief advertisement of a hat he had found on the streets of Statesboro on the night of the recent county primary. He said it was a perfectly good hat, and that the owner could recover it upon proper identification and payment of expenses. He did not even stipulate that the owner should explain how he lost it. Today a claimant comes forward for the hat. He knew the value of advertisements, but was reluctant to advertise the loss, for fear somebody might be suspicious. He therefore bided his time and watched the "Lost and Found" column. When his hat was advertised, he recognized it. He did not know how he lost it, nor exactly where, but he did know that he had it on in Statesboro, and when he got home and waked up, he was bare-headed. He is sure it is his hat, and of course it is. He promises that, if the finder would ask him where he lost it, he would ask the finder where he found it. That is fair enough. So it pays to advertise and to also read the advertisements.

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK.

The Georgia Press Association has been in existence for nearly a third of a century we believe. Meetings have been held regularly each year, and interesting programs arranged, important subjects discussed, strong resolutions adopted, and attempts made to solve business problems. Without intending to offer criticism of anything that has been done, however, we do not believe that anything has ever been undertaken that approaches in any measure the opportunities for practical service to the state, and, incidentally to the newspapers themselves, as the campaign outlined by President J. Kelley Simmons, of McRae.

The work undertaken by Mr. Simmons, and suggested for adoption by the newspapers of the entire state, is a campaign to boost Georgia. He insists that every newspaper in the state shall enter upon a campaign of education by presenting each week some important truth regarding the advantages of living offered by Georgia. He would not confine the campaign to a circle about home, but insists that whatever helps one section of the state, helps all of the state.

And Editor Simmons has struck a strong chord. Boosting for Georgia will bring Georgians closer together—it will enable them to appreciate more and understand better the advantages which are theirs. We are glad the campaign is on; it promises good.

Editor Simmons is not only making suggestions, but he is practicing his doctrine. He says, "I am going to carry an article every week." And he is carrying good ones, too. Our readers will be interested in his leader for last week:

"The problem of keeping the young people of the rural communities at home has long been a very acute problem."

"The American chamber of commerce some weeks ago sent a questionnaire to the boys and girls of the American High School asking them if they intended to make America their home after leaving school and, if not, why not?"

"Two-thirds of the boys replied that they planned to go to some large city because they could get better jobs or there are more opportunities in the greater cities."

"On its face this reveals a deplorable condition. No doubt, the same condition exists in every small town and in most rural communities of the state. The young people dream of going away to make their careers. Fortunately, all dreams do not come true, and, in the end, more than two-thirds of the boys stay at home, or near by. They get a job at home, or fall in love with a home town girl—which is always a good thing—and even if they go off for a while, they come back."

"But enough boys and girls go away to make a serious problem. The large cities have a strong lure for the youth of the more rural sections. We cannot blame the cities for this. Really, the men and women of vision in the large cities would prefer to see the talented young folks stay in the country and build up the farms and towns."

"A part of this blame rests on the older citizens of the towns. We have not boosted our own communities enough. Too many people throw out on their own counties and towns. We ought to brag about what we have and pull together to develop and build up. Instill in the minds of our young people the conviction that their own county, their own native town, offer opportunities for fortunes and a career. Create a strong civic spirit. Pull together instead of pulling down."

"Build up!" "America is one of the finest cities in Georgia. Her boys cannot find a better one anywhere. We do not believe when they grow a little older they will go away."

"If they do, it will only be an imitation of a butterfly that flits from a flower to light by a muldoo."

BOLL WEEVIL MONUMENT.

The Times mentioned last week, in an editorial discussion of the opportunities presented in the growing of peanuts, that an Alabama town had erected a monument to the memory of the boll weevil. We mentioned that the farmers of that Alabama community when driven out of the cotton growing, had turned to peanuts and stock raising, and had found them more profitable. It was in recognition of the valuable service thus rendered by the boll weevil that the monument had been erected to his memory.

The daily papers of the present week are carrying a news item of the incident referred to. The Savannah Press of Monday carries on its front page an illustration of the monument, and the story concerning it follows: Enterprise, Ala., March 15.—Citizens of Enterprise, Coffee county, have erected a handsome bronze statue to the greatest roge among the Southern crop parasites, the boll weevil.

It is not that the Enterprise folks revere this notorious enemy of cotton profits, as they hate and fear the crop destroyer as thoroughly as do all other residents of the Cotton Belt. They merely are paying homage to a lucky circumstance which revolutionized their farming activities and popularized livestock production in their locality—which previously was wedded and welded to exclusive cotton cropping.

Under cotton-raising domination, Enterprise was an accurate antithesis, for all that name implies. The community was stagnant, rut-bound and debt-ridden. Every farmer depended on cotton.

In his disaster-spreading journeys over the length and breadth of Alabama the boll weevil threatened to visit Enterprise.

Under the leadership of the county agricultural agent, a monster mass meeting was called to devise ways and means of either side-tracking the boll weevil or else fortifying the county against his appearance.

A campaign was inaugurated to popularize livestock farming and diversified agricultural practices. During the last six years Coffee county farmers have followed the emergency program mapped out for them. Bank deposits increased tremendously, while the number of farm buildings, modern conveniences, improved highways and all allied evidences of agricultural prosperity are now perceptible in the neighborhood of Enterprise.

TO REPUBLICANS OF BULLOCH COUNTY:

IF YOU TREAT ME HALF-WAY DECENT I WILL DO THE REST.

I thirst for pure distilled WATER. My power is ELECTRICITY. Now, please don't let me starve to death. My capacity is 1,300 pounds to every gallon in my battery—don't guess that I am properly filled up—use a WILLARD HYDROMETER or carry me to the WILLARD SERVICE STATION and have me tested and filled with DISTILLED WATER. It is free. Ask the WILLARD dealer if every cell tests 1,300. If not, ask him why, because I might be starving. I may need filling with distilled water or electricity more frequent than you figured. So take me around to the WILLARD SERVICE STATION and have me tested.

Thank you, Mr. Driver, I am feeling fine now, I'll come again.

Just as expected, the solicitorship of the new Ogeechee circuit is very probable, it seems, and he is to come from Bulloch county. The new aspirant is Hon. Fred T. Lanier, of Statesboro, and he is a real bright and popular attorney, a favorite son of Bulloch county, as the saying goes. This is just what we expected. Bulloch county has many as many votes as all the other counties put together, and all they've got to do over there to "hog the whole thing" is to stick together and vote solid.—Springfield Herald.

The Herald editor is unduly apprehensive. Bulloch is not trying to "hog the whole thing." So far she has a candidate for the judgeship of the Ogeechee circuit, and only one, Jenkins has two candidates for solicitor of the court, so she's got one on two to one. As time goes on, we may have another one or two, but we are entitled to at least as many candidates as any other county in the circuit.

WHAT BRYAN THINKS ABOUT THE TREATY

SAYS A MAJORITY SHOULD CONTROL, AND THAT OUGHT TO BE EASY TO ENFORCE.

Ashville, N. C., March 14.—"It ought to be as easy to end a war as to begin a war," according to a statement by William Jennings Bryan, made here today advocating a change in the constitution permitting a majority of the Senate to ratify a peace treaty.

"The vote yesterday on article 10," he said, "would seem to insure ratification without further delay. I assume the Democrats in the Senate will join in ratification now that the majority has so clearly expressed its opinion."

"Our campaign will be a farce as well as a failure, if, after the Senate has so emphatically expressed its opinion in favor of ratification with reservations, our party joins the irreconcilables in opposing ratification in order to make the treaty a partisan issue."

"The Senate's action in dealing with this treaty has shown the need of an amendment to the constitution permitting a majority to ratify a treaty. It ought to be as easy to end a war as to begin a war."

COUGHED NIGHT AND DAY.
John Vognue, Elberton, Ga., writes: "I coughed night and day and was almost worn out. I got a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in a few days I was well as ever. My cough was the best cough medicine made." Best for colds, croup, whooping cough, children like it. Sold by Bulloch Drug Co.

PHOTOGRAPHING GRAVES OF FALLEN SOLDIERS

WILL BE SENT TO FAMILIES IN AMERICA AS SOON AS COMPLETED.

Washington, March 16.—The Graves Registration Service of the Army and the American Red Cross have received invaluable aid from German prisoners detailed to help the searchers in the task of locating the graves of American soldiers who fell behind the enemy lines. The Red Cross is photographing for the families the graves of all the American dead that can be found.

Twelve soldiers were recently found through the assistance of one of these prisoners who recalled their burial. The German remembered that after a counter-attack, when the Germans recaptured a village, several Americans had been buried in a certain spot hurriedly, he remembered for another onslaught was momentarily expected. He described how the bodies had been placed in three rows in a shell-made grave, and led the American Red Cross workers to the spot. The bodies were found and after identification were given a reburial in Romagne, the largest cemetery in France.

Of the 80,000 graves of American soldiers in France, only 3,000 have not yet been photographed. The majority of the 3,000 are of men who fell during the time when the 27th and 30th Divisions were brigaded with French and British troops in Somme region, and their graves are scattered through the Barle-Due and St. Menchoull sections. They will all be transferred in the spring to Romagne cemetery and re-photographed for the purpose of accurate and definite record.

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST JOB—AND ITS SCOPE

Every year the Presidency of the United States grows more important, until now it is recognized as the biggest job in the world. Yet few people realize that the president is not chosen by a majority vote and that several of our presidents have not been the most popular choice of all the people. This fact is clearly discussed in the story of the Presidency, one of the series of articles on Our Government, which we are issuing monthly.

PEANUT IMPORTANT
CROP FOR SOUTH

CAN BE PUT TO VARIETY OF USES AND ARE ALSO A GOOD MONEY CROP.

(Bulletin Southern Peanut Crushers Association.)

Plan your crop rotation for several years ahead. Arrange to follow the peanut crop this fall with a winter crop of oats or rye to be grazed and turned under in the spring and then plant to corn or vegetables beans.

Any crop that is removed from the land will drain the soil of a certain amount of fertility. On rich land this may not be noticeable for some time, but as surely as a vessel of water contains a small leak will the fertility of the soil be exhausted unless rotation of crops is practiced and a sufficient amount of fertilizer applied to supply the various crops with the necessary plant food to reduce a maximum crop. This applies to peanuts as well as other crops. Every farmer should be the best judge of his own soil requirements. It is impossible for us to give out a fertilizer formula that will apply to the various soils and conditions, but the farther our investigations carry us the more convinced we are that generally it will pay well to use lime, phosphate, ash, and in some instances ammoniac under the peanut crop. If you do not know what kind of fertilizer or how much to use apply to your county agent or write us stating the class of soil you have and what crops have been grown on the land for the past several years and the kind and amount of fertilizer used, and we will give you the best practical information obtainable. We are in a position to give information on the price of ground lime to almost any point in Georgia or Alabama.

The peanut is now as staple a cash crop as cotton, with a higher value per acre than even 40 cent cotton. Plant as much acreage in peanuts for market as you can properly tend. Prepare the soil well, secure good seed, do not scrimp on the seed, cultivate well, harvest properly, and a handsome profit is assured. Again we wish to caution the grower against storing shelled seed any great length of time before planting. Secure improved machinery that will meet your requirements. It is cheaper than labor and is a good investment that will pay dividends each year.

Of the 1915 peanut crop of 46,000,000 bushels 13 per cent were sold for local uses.

4 per cent were sold for food for local uses.

6 per cent were fed to live stock without the vines (locally).

9 per cent were fed to live stock with the vines.

68 per cent were sold for various uses.

Peanuts yield more pounds of digestible protein per acre than any other human food known with the exception of beans.

Peanuts are universally liked. It is unnecessary to educate or even cultivate the "peanut appetite." Everybody likes 'em, from youth to old age. How we pity the man without teeth!

MOONSHINERS BRIBE FEDERAL POLICEMEN

NORTH GEORGIA SYNDICATE OFFER FEDERAL AGENTS $500 PER MONTH.

Atlanta, March 15.—Plans by which federal agents in Cherokee county, Georgia, sought to obtain immunity from federal raids on payment of $500 a month were described here today at a preliminary hearing before a United States commission of John Henry Hardin, who has served a term for operating an illicit stillery.

Hardin, according to the officers, was the man who sought to bribe them. He was sent to jail in default of $3,000 bond. The agents asserted that they pretended to fall in with the plans they described to Hardin and laid a trap for him in a local hotel with other officers and detectives in an adjoining room.

They testified he paid E. E. Dixon a federal prohibition agent, $500 cash and promised him $500 each month on the understanding that his "caterer" of officers would make no raids in Cherokee county and would "tip off" the moonshiners if other federal agents sought to invade the North Georgia hills around there.

SMITH.

On Jan. 2, 1920, Mrs. Susanna Smith, wife of Bro. Milton Smith, was called from this world to her final reward. She leaves to mourn her departure a husband and five children, Mrs. D. M. Beasley, of Savannah; Miss Eva Smith, J. M. C. L., and Fred Smith, all of this county; also a host of relatives and friends.

She was born Aug. 29, 1850; married to Bro. Smith October 24, 1873. She joined Corinth church about 1891, and was a member ever since.

She was a devoted Christian woman, a faithful wife and loving mother. Until she became broken down in health, she was faithful to help others in time of need. She had been in failing health for a number of years, and confined to her room for several months before her death. After she became unable to attend church, she was very anxious for her pastor to come to her home and have prayer with her. Those who knew her best loved her most. It can, indeed, be said of her that a good woman has been taken from us. While it is our loss, it is her eternal gain.

May the dear husband and children ever have the hope that in the near future they will meet where there will be no more sickness, pain or death. All of her children have confessed Christ and united with the church except one son. May the richest of God's blessings be upon the family and be with them in their sorrow. "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God."

Gently the stars are shining
Down into the silent grave
Where lies our dear wife and mother sleeping—
The one we loved but could not save.

We often sit and think of her
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.
More and more each day we miss her;
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.

“That Telephone is in Trouble—”

The “inside plant” of the telephone exchange is made up of delicate and intricate apparatus—and no such machinery is entirely “trouble-less.”

The signal that operates on the switchboard when you call might “burn out” or stick—then you can't get “Central.” The fuse in your line up the “main frame” may blow out—then your telephone is “dead.”

Switchboard cords are small flexible cables of many tiny wires; several of the little wires frequently snap from constant handling, then your connection “cuts off.”

The apparatus is sensitive to extremes of heat or cold, dust or moisture. It is constantly watched and tested, but no precaution can eliminate all the trouble—these are just a few samples of the things that happen.

Considering all the electrical apparatus and connections involved in a telephone call, it is not surprising that things occasionally go wrong!

PEPTO-MANGAN MAKES RICH RED BLOOD

Helps Restore Thin, Run-down Men and Women to Vigorous, Full-Blooded Health.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS

Sold in Liquid or Tablet Form—The Name “Gude’s” the Guide to the Genuine.

It is a true saying that your health is only as good as your blood. Good blood manifests itself in a healthy, natural complexion; clear, keen eyes; tireless energy and enthusiasm; and an abundant supply of reserve strength.

And just as positively does poor, thin blood directly influence the entire system. Pale, sallow complexion; dull eyes; a listless step; faintness; tiredness; worn-out feeling; general debility and unhealthiness—all are positive signs that the body is not receiving its proper nourishment through the blood.

Pepto-Mangan helps restore vigorous health, because it contains the very elements so much needed by the blood to enable it to perform its functions and supply the body with nourishment, energy, and strength.

For your convenience, Pepto-Mangan is prepared in tablet as well as liquid form. Both possess exactly the same medicinal value.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan, and that is “Gude’s.” If the name “Gude’s” is not on the package it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement.

ESKIMO DANCE WORTH SEEING

Eskimos of Alaska perform their dancing feats to the sound of “tamtams” with round, flat heads and short handles. The heads of the instruments are of seal hide, which the natives moisten from time to time with a sponge to keep tightened. They beat on the under side of the drum with long, slender willow wands, little chips breaking off the sticks all the time and flying about. With a slow, monotonous chant at first, they gradually work themselves into a frenzied shout and loud, resonant beating of the drums as the dance goes on.

While they dance the men are stripped to the waist, but the women wear their colorful “Mother Hubbards,” or denim parkas, with a gleaming belt of wolvenote about the face. The dancing ceremony begins with a “muscle dance” by a young boy, in which the men later join, after which comes the “wolf dance,” with more energy and loud shouting. The women then join in, by the way, with marvelous rhythmic grace of movement.

When the dance is over one of the musicians takes up a collection in his “tamtam.” The non-native white guests usually contribute tea and candy, it being wrong for a guest to give money.

Mother Otter's Job.

The young otters—blind and downy are born in a soft-lined nest under the shelter of an inaccessible bank; the mother will at first hardly leave them, save on feverish rushes after the food necessary to keep up the supply of milk. To guard them she always like many a human mother, with at least one ear awake. When they open their eyes she cautiously carries them, to bank for a while in the winter sunshine, for their birthdays are often in January. When they can clamber she teaches them the woodcrafts of the immediate vicinity of the “river,” and then communicates many of the valuable lessons she has learned, some flumes taking occasion to punish the unruly members of the family by biting them.

Saint Lucy.

Refreshing as a spring on a July noon, lovely as the song of the thrush at the close of a gay day, is the life record of Saint Lucy. The dear girl, whose name, from the Latin (lux, lucis) means “light,” was born in Syracuse, N. Y. Her startling beauty brought a mob of suitors at her feet. But she had vowed herself to the religious life and declined their addresses. A young nobleman, maddened with love for her, accused her to the governor as professing Christianity. In the fearful persecution under Diocletian she was martyred. She is represented in art as holding a plate with her two eyes upon it.—Chicago Journal.

Warned by Sandpaper Label.

A device for protection, people from taking doses from poison bottles by mistake is a sandpaper label. The ordinary label is posted on a piece of sandpaper large enough to go all round the bottle, so that when anyone takes up the bottle in the night, no matter how dazed from sleep he may be, the rough unfamiliar feel of the sandpaper raises him and he recognizes at once that the bottle contains poison and some description. The printed label tells the kind of poison in the bottle.

You Want to Ask This Question

Can I Get My Money Should I Need It?

A few days ago an investor in our 6 Per Cent. Certificates of Loan presented some of her Certificates for cancellation and payment. We asked her why she was cashing them in. Her reply was that she had bought a home and had to make a cash payment; that she had tried to sell her Liberty Bonds but had to sell them at such a great discount that she decided to cash in her Certificate of Loan instead, as they could be cashed in at par, without delay and without the loss of a day's interest. She stated that these Certificates were the best investment she had, and had so proven. For high interest and quick convertibility into cash they had proved themselves to be everything that had been claimed for them.

Let us give you the name of this investor, so that you can have her tell you this in person.

SOUND BUSINESS DIDN'T HAVE WELL BASIS FOR CHURCH DRY FOR 25 YEARS

Interchurch World Movement
Natural Growth of Tendency
To Eliminate Waste

AVOIDS USELESS COMPETITION

Religious Financing Revolutionized
By Success Of Men And Millions
Movement And Co-operation
Is Result

The Interchurch World Movement of North America is an attempt by forward-looking leaders of the various religious denominations of the United States and Canada to coordinate the resources in men, money and material for Protestant America.

Historically it is the logical outgrowth of a tendency of the national boards in each denomination to form working alliances among themselves, in which each board shall preserve its identity and control its own personnel and treasury.

In former times, the home mission society, the foreign mission society, the church extension society and the various philanthropic and benevolent agencies of any denomination conducted their affairs independently of one another. Each surveyed its own restricted territory, prepared a budget of money and workers for its own purposes and made its own appeal to its constituency for support.

This could only mean that these agencies were more or less in competition with one another; that there were waste and duplication of work and money, and that among these agencies there was a neglect and some denominational resources were entirely overlooked. Because of their specialized training, the leaders of each agency regarded themselves as peculiarly fitted for their tasks, and jealously regarded attempts at outside interference.

Decide On Experiment
After decades of such haphazard methods, the leaders of one denomination decided on an experiment. They thought it would be possible for the agencies to get together for a common study of all the opportunities and resources of their brotherhood, to make out a unified budget of men and money, and to conduct a concerted appeal for funds. It was made clear that each constituent board should preserve complete autonomy.

When the board representatives met they found it possible to eliminate a great amount of organization expenses. They ultimately worked out a budget and plan of campaign that was satisfactory to all. This resulted in the famous “Men and Millions Movement” of the Disciples of Christ, which brought in what was then considered the staggering sum of $6,200,000 for a five-year program. The members of the communion were so pleased with this business-like method of conducting affairs that they contributed even more generously than had been expected.

The success of this enterprise revolutionized the whole business of church financing. The other great denominations immediately adopted the plan. The denominational associations have come to be known as “forward movements,” and some thirty of them are in existence today. Each one has clarified all the information in relation to enterprise within the denomination, and has reduced the business of collecting and spending money to a science.

World-Budget Formed
The Interchurch World Movement is simply a plan to do interdenominational work that the forward movements have done within their own denominations. It means that every denominational budget will be made in the light of world needs instead of in the semi-seclusion of incomplete information. It means that contributions of one denomination will not be in waste full competition with contributions of another, because all the fellowships will have worked out their program together.

The functions of the Interchurch World Movement are threefold. First, it collects, by means of world surveys, all the pertinent facts on which denominational programs may be built. Second, it sets up the practical machinery of co-operation. Third, it acts as an advisory capacity whenever its advice is requested.

The Movement has nothing to do with organic church union or matters of creed. It means that each denomination preserves complete autonomy, and is bound only so far as it wishes to be bound. Financial appeals are made by each denomination to its own constituency. Any surplus in designated funds, over and above the actual cost of administration, will be prorated among the denominations engaged in a given financial undertaking.

An illustration of one thing the Movement can do is to be found in a western community of 1,600 persons in which thirteen denominations have been supporting separate churches with missionary funds, while an adjacent territory of 50,000 persons has only three churches. By seeing that all missionary boards are supplied with information in such cases, the Movement will make possible a wiser distribution of funds.

Its first goal is to reduce unnecessary duplication and overlapping to a minimum and to bring about an efficient division of labor in unoccupied fields.

SAN FRANCISCO WOMAN HAS GAINED THIRTY POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC.

“I had not seen a well day in twenty-five years until I started taking Tanlac,” said Mrs. Virginia Stapp, 4155 Valentine street, San Francisco, Calif.

“I was beginning to think,” she continued, “that I would have to bear my wretched health as long as I lived. I had no appetite, and when I managed to eat a few bites I could not digest it and as I could get no strength or nourishment I fell off twenty-five pounds in weight. I hardly knew what it was to be without a headache. All my life I have been so constipated that every day for years I had to take a laxative. My tongue was always coated and I had a bad taste in my mouth all the time. My condition was so bad that I could get little sleep, but would roll and toss about all night long.

“But all that is changed now, for since I am taking Tanlac I am able to eat anything I please without any bad after effects and I have actually gained thirty pounds. I haven't had a headache in so long I have almost forgotten about them. My constipated condition has been relieved and I never have that bad taste in my mouth or coated tongue any more. I sleep well or ten hours every night; can do my housework with ease and I have so much new life and energy that I just feel fine all the time.”
